

A postcard from LSBU alumni.....

Meet Kwadwo, LLM Legal Studies, 2018

Before he was a Social Worker, he was an LSBU student.

- Name: Kwadwo Boahen Oppong
- Job title: Social Worker
- Where I work: Supporting my community with Croydon Council

"I was arrested and charged for something I didn't do and that is when my interest in law grew. The way my case was mishandled, from the police arrest to the judge's verdict, I realised a lot of people would have experienced what I had without any hope or knowledge to challenge or change it.

My course taught me to fight my own case and support others in the same process.

The diversity of the University; the reputation of the School of Law and Social Science; and the ease of being able to access learning materials, which was important to me.

My advice to you is....

W Do your best. Everybody has their issues but when you find it difficult don't keep it to yourself, speak to someone".
