B. Course Aims and Features

Distinctive features of course	The SCPHN course is designed to meet the NMC (2004) proficiencies for Specialist Community Public Health Nursing (SCPHN). The course runs full time over 52 weeks and part time over two years. It is nationally recognised and students who successfully complete the programme gain employment as health visitors or school nurses depending on their chosen professional route. This is a significant promotion for many people because it usually represents employment at Agenda for Change band 6 or 7. The SCPHN programme attracts qualified nurses and/or midwives who have initial registration with the Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC) who wish to specialise in the field of community public health nursing (SCPHN). Applicants choose to pursue one of two professions (health visiting or school nursing). The (52 weeks full time/two years part time) programme allows successful graduates to register the qualification with the Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC). The SCPHN programme at London South Bank University creates effective and efficient practitioners who are fit for practice and purpose as specialist community public health nurses (SCPHN). The course provides opportunities to learn alongside students and practitioners from other professional fields including social workers. This means that students explore issues relating to integrated working at an early stage of the course and at regular intervals. This will prepare students for the reality of policy and practice once qualified and is illustrated by feedback from NHS Trusts/ organisation reporting that students from the SCPHN programme at LSBU are successful at interview and are fit for practice and purpose on employment. This is particularly important post October 2015 when commissioning for SCPHN (health visitor and school nurses) has moved from health to local government agency commissioning. Students undertaking the course full time must usually complete within two years of the start date. Students undertaking the course part time over two years should usually complete within four years of the start date (LSBU, 2015: Academic Regulations, p.14: 3.26 and 3.28). This ensures that they are retaining currency with the academic and practice requirements of the programme.

Course Aims	The programme aims to develop SCPHN (health visitors and school nurses) who are confident, competent and capable to operate in contemporary health visiting and school nursing practice and service delivery. Graduates will function in line with the NMC Code (2015) and will be able to form judgements, assess and manage risk in order to articulate decisions that assure the health, well-being and safety of the public. The programme is based on key public health principles illustrated within four domains: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Search for health needs</li> <li>• Stimulation of awareness of health needs</li> <li>• Influence on policies affecting health</li> <li>• Facilitation of health-enhancing activities</li> </ul> In addition to the stated award successful graduates also qualify as Registered Nurse Prescribers and have specialist knowledge and skills for infant feeding in line with the requirements of the UNICEF standards (2014). They also have the breadth of experience in/from practice to enable them to be critical thinkers; confident and competent to make effective judgements and decisions in fast changing complex situations which epitomise contemporary SCPHN (health visiting or school nursing) practice. The course aims to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Prepare students for safe, effective and contemporary practice as a specialist community public health nurse (SCPHN) in the professional field of health visiting or school nursing and registration with the Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC).</li> <li>2. Provide students with a quality learning experience that enables them to develop the skills and knowledge required to enter employment as a health visitor or school nurse and the aspirations to continue learning through further study in higher education.</li> <li>3. Prepare students to be critical thinkers, problem solvers and effective communicators that respond to changing client situations in practice.</li> <li>4. Prepare students to lead, manage and work in professional teams to seek solutions to situations and problems.</li> <li>5. Prepare students for contemporary public health practice (health prevention, promotion and improvement).</li> <li>6. Prepare students for evidence informed practice which enables them to access, assess, apply and disseminate research in their practice and deliver safe and effective care.</li> </ol>
Course Learning Outcomes	a) Students will have knowledge and understanding of: A1: The requirements for professional practice in safe and effective public health and social care.

Appendix A: Curriculum Map

This map provides a design aid to help course teams identify where course outcomes are being developed, taught and assessed within the course. It also provides a checklist for quality assurance purposes and may be used in validation, accreditation and external examining processes. Making the learning outcomes explicit will also help students to monitor their own learning and development as the course progresses.

Approach to PDP	Level 6 and 7
1 Supporting the development and recognition of skills through the personal tutor system.	Each student is allocated a personal tutor. The same person will also be the link lecturer who will meet with the student and the practice teacher during placement visits. This creates continuity and promotes effective relationship building. Contact will normally be made within the first semester and further contacts are planned based on need. All students will have at least one contact with their personal tutor/link lecturer during the course. Evidence –Professional portfolio, course guide, records of tutorials and placement visits.
2 Supporting the development and recognition of skills in academic modules/units.	All students are offered a personal tutorial during the academic module. They are introduced to the learning support team/ service during the induction for the programme. Students are encouraged to submit formative work prior to the summative submission and receive feedback. Written feedback is given with all summative assignment submissions. Students on the level 7 programme are invited to attend additional tutorial sessions as a group where they explore the strategies for learning at level 7. Evidence – Formative assignments, progress interviews, assignment feedback, personal tutorial and placement visits
3 Supporting the development and recognition of skills through purpose designed modules/units.	The programme presents a variety of assessments. Students are invited to revision sessions to help prepare for examinations. Evidence – Module guides
4 Supporting the development and recognition of skills through research projects and dissertations work.	Students on the level 7 programme who wish to progress to the Master degree will normally be encouraged to attend the planning sessions for the Masters programme. The programme does not require submission of a dissertation.
5 Supporting the development and recognition of career management skills.	The programme team work closely with the NHS Organisations / trusts to ensure that the skills that student are acquiring are being employed and are relevant to health care provision. Evidence- managers meetings 4 times a years, placement visits, practice teacher days

6 Supporting the development and recognition of career management skills through work placements or work experience.	The students complete half of the programme (50%) in the practice placement for their chosen professional field. They complete a period of consolidated practice placement during the final 10 weeks of the programme. This is undertaken with indirect supervision of the practice teacher and they are supported to manage a specific caseload of clients and issues. Evidence – professional portfolio, assessment of competence by the practice teacher
7 Supporting the development of skills by recognising that they can be developed through extra curricula activities.	Students undertaking the level 7 programme are invited to additional tutorial sessions to develop strategies for learning at level 7. Evidence – course guides
8 Supporting the development of the skills and attitudes as a basis for continuing professional development.	Students and practice teachers complete a behaviour and attitude assessment three times during the year. This stimulates discussion about issues of concern as well as issues that are well developed. Evidence – professional practice portfolio
9 Other approaches to personal development planning.	Students complete additional and alternative practice placements to help them to consider the wider aspects relating to their professional field. They are encouraged to complete a reflective journal and must complete written reflective accounts illustrating how they have achieved the learning outcomes. This will also prepare the students for the requirements of the NMC (2015) Revalidation Framework. Evidence – professional practice portfolio
10 The means by which self-reflection, evaluation and planned development is supported e.g. electronic or paper-based learning log or diary.	Students complete a professional practice portfolio during the practice placement component of the programme. The complete written reflective accounts and provide evidence to show how they have achieved the learning outcomes. Evidence – professional practice portfolio

Appendix C: Terminology

[Please provide a selection of definitions according to your own course and context to help prospective students who may not be familiar with terms used in higher education. Some examples are listed below]

awarding body	a UK higher education provider (typically a university) with the power to award higher education qualifications such as degrees
bursary	a financial award made to students to support their studies; sometimes used interchangeably with 'scholarship'
collaborative provision	a formal arrangement between a degree-awarding body and a partner organisation, allowing for the latter to provide higher education on behalf of the former
compulsory module	a module that students are required to take
contact hours	the time allocated to direct contact between a student and a member of staff through, for example, timetabled lectures, seminars and tutorials
coursework	student work that contributes towards the final result but is not assessed by written examination
current students	students enrolled on a course who have not yet completed their studies or been awarded their qualification
delivery organisation	an organisation that delivers learning opportunities on behalf of a degree-awarding body
distance-learning course	a course of study that does not involve face-to-face contact between students and tutors
extracurricular	activities undertaken by students outside their studies
feedback (on assessment)	advice to students following their completion of a piece of assessed or examined work
formative assessment	a type of assessment designed to help students learn more effectively, to progress in their studies and to prepare for summative assessment; formative assessment does not contribute to the final mark, grade or class of degree awarded to students

higher education provider	organisations that deliver higher education
independent learning	learning that occurs outside the classroom that might include preparation for scheduled sessions, follow-up work, wider reading or practice, completion of assessment tasks, or revision
intensity of study	the time taken to complete a part-time course compared to the equivalent full-time version: for example, half-time study would equate to 0.5 intensity of study
lecture	a presentation or talk on a particular topic; in general lectures involve larger groups of students than seminars and tutorials
learning zone	a flexible student space that supports independent and social learning
material information	information students need to make an informed decision, such as about what and where to study
mode of study	different ways of studying, such as full-time, part-time, e-learning or work-based learning
modular course	a course delivered using modules
module	a self-contained, formally structured unit of study, with a coherent and explicit set of learning outcomes and assessment criteria; some providers use the word 'course' or 'course unit' to refer to individual modules
national teaching fellowship	a national award for individuals who have made an outstanding impact on student learning and the teaching profession
navigability (of websites)	the ease with which users can obtain the information they require from a website
optional module	a module or course unit that students choose to take
performance (examinations)	a type of examination used in performance-based subjects such as drama and music
professional body	an organisation that oversees the activities of a particular profession and represents the interests of its members
prospective student	those applying or considering applying for any programme, at any level and employing any mode of study, with a higher education provider

regulated course	a course that is regulated by a regulatory body
regulatory body	an organisation recognised by government as being responsible for the regulation or approval of a particular range of issues and activities
scholarship	a type of bursary that recognises academic achievement and potential, and which is sometimes used interchangeably with 'bursary'
semester	either of the parts of an academic year that is divided into two for purposes of teaching and assessment (in contrast to division into terms)
seminar	seminars generally involve smaller numbers than lectures and enable students to engage in discussion of a particular topic and/or to explore it in more detail than might be covered in a lecture
summative assessment	formal assessment of students' work, contributing to the final result
term	any of the parts of an academic year that is divided into three or more for purposes of teaching and assessment (in contrast to division into semesters)
total study time	the total time required to study a module, unit or course, including all class contact, independent learning, revision and assessment
tutorial	one-to-one or small group supervision, feedback or detailed discussion on a particular topic or project
work/study placement	a planned period of experience outside the institution (for example, in a workplace or at another higher education institution) to help students develop particular skills, knowledge or understanding as part of their course
workload	see 'total study time'
written examination	a question or set of questions relating to a particular area of study to which candidates write answers usually (but not always) under timed conditions
